ROSSI PROMISES AN EXPOSE OF FASCISIMO

CENSURE VOTE IS REFUSED IN UPPER HOUSE

Senate Declines, 36 To 33, To Formally Criticise Justice Department For Failure To Proceed Against Aluminum Co., of America.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Republican leaders of the senate were figuratively strewing flowers today on the grave of the democratic-insurgent coalition, which on numerous occasions has demonstrated its ability to control the senate to the dismay and defeat of President Coolidge's policies.

On all sides was heard the prediction that the coalition, as a militant menace to administration policies, is dead

And the opinion was generally expressed that it will rarely be resurrected, if at all, to accomplish the defeat of the white house While the early reports of demise may be exaggerated, it was apparent that the coalition has received a stunning blow

The issue which broke the alliance betwen the democrats and the handful of republican insurgents was the proposed censure of the department of justice for its lack of diligence in proceeding against the Aluminum Co of America

Characterized by republicans as an indirect method of attack on Secretary Mellon and President Coolidge, the proposed investigation was beaten by 36 to 33 and the defeat was ascribed almost entirely today to the defection of conservative democrats, who while they would not vote against their party, evaded the issue by either absenting themselves from the chamber or giving pairs which allowed the administration forces to win

Feelings Ruffled.

A trail of democratic dissension and ruffled feelings was left today in the wake of the vote, and emphasized the split in the democratic ranks of the senate which is held to be of far-reaching political significance

Democratic solidarity in the senate, so often demonstrated on issues in opposition to the administration appeared today to have been shattered. It cracked early in the session on the contest over the seating of Senator Nye, republican of North Dakota, it widened on the World court vote it yawned still further on the tax bill just passed and it became a chasm on the Mellon-aluminum issue

The issue of combining with the republican insurgents to defeat ad-

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fifteen firemen were injured while fighting flames in a two-story building here early today

Several of the ifteen were precipitated from the second floor to the basement when a piano plunged through the weakened boards and carried them down with it

The others were injured when a wall of the building collapsed.

RANDOLPH BANK IS REORGANIZED

Owners Meet Double Liability and Make Good Capital-Stock Impairment.

Financial embarrassments in which the Farmers' State bank of Randolph became involved some time ago, have been cleared away through the action of the owners in voluntarily meeting their double liability to the extent of $17,600 and paying in another $25,000 to make good the impairment of capital stock

The bank has now been reorganized under the name of Farmers' & Merchants' State bank and is starting off with a clean business slate and a new charter from the state trade and commerce department

In order to clean up the situation

In order to clean up the situation, the sum of $35,233 has been drawn from the state guaranty fund to balance the liabilities and assets of the old bank This lets the fund off very lightly, compared with what the loss would probably have been in the event of a failure

The new Farmers' & Merchants' State assumes liability for $230,000 of deposits in the bank which it succeeds It takes over $117,000 of notes at face value, cash on hand amounting to $38 700, furniture and fixtures worth $2,000, and real estate other than the bank building valued at $15,000 The total of all assets transferred is $295,500, and the difference between that sum and the deposits is what the guaranty fund pays

There may possibly be some salvage from other paper which remains in the hands of the state authorities. Anything realized from that source will go to reimburse the guaranty fund

Stephen F Browne will continue as president and active manager of the bank Peter M. Bermel likewise retains his position as vice president, but the former cashier, H. O Peterson, will not be connected with the new institution Who will take the cashier's place has not been announced

The amount of capital stock is reduced from $35,000 to $25,000, and all of the latter sum resubscribed, while all losses and bad paper are made good

Consummation of these arrangements leaves Randolph with one national and one state bank, the same as it had before

TRIAL OF BIMBA NEARING AN END

BROCKTON, Mass, Feb 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Hearing of rebuttal witnesses and addresses to the jury were all that remained to complete today the sedition and blasphemy trial of Anthony Bimba

The Lithunian editor and lecturer of Brooklyn did not take the stand in his own defense An old Massachusetts court decision bars a proven athiest from being a witness.

That a decision would be reached by Judge King by next Tuesday has been predicted

Failing memories characterized testimony for both sides. Defense witnesses yesterday swore that the burden of Bimba's disputed address, in which he is alleged to have denied God, was an appeal for temperance, thrift in savings as opposed to contributions to the Lithuanian church, and for the education and betterment of conditions for workers attended by the Countess of Cathcart and many well known persons, at which a nude girl is said to have bathed in wine

Carroll's trip to the jury room has raised the question as to whether under the law he now is immune from any charges of violation of the Volstead act

Joyce Hawley, a model, has hired a lawyer to sue Carroll for $1,000 The lawyer declares she thought her bath was to be at a private party but now she believes she was the victim of a publicity stunt

She expected a job in one of his productions, her lawyer says, but was given $20 by Carroll and told to forget it The lawyer said he had interviewed Carroll on the matter

The Countess Cathcart, who expects to return to Ellis Island Tuesday, also is protesting that she is a victim of publicity The attempt of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America to bar her from films as a publicity mad person she declares is unwarranted

"I never thought of going into the films," she says

Co-Eds Routed By Sorority House Fire Escape Uninjured

Fire, believed to have started from an electric iron damaged a double sorority house at Fourteenth and Q streets at 4 o'clock Saturday morning

Forty University women, occupants of the Alpha Delta Theta and Alpha Chi Omega sections of the house, escaped without injury The flames spread quickly and none of the occupants knew of the blaze until smoke filled both sections of the house

Damage to the property was not estimated, but was thought to be extensive Clothing in the Alpha Delta Theta section was lost Four girls, Isie Gramlich, Katherine Kraig, Dorothy Withers, and Frieda Lumke, are said to have lost their entire wardrobes as a result of the blaze.

Firemen declared Saturday that the cause of the fire was an overheated electric iron, evidently left with the current on Members of Alpha Delta Theta, however, attributed the blaze to defective wiring in the ceiling of the second floor

The flames began on the second floor of the Alpha Delta Theta section, burning the partition and spreading into the Alpha Chi Omega residence, where all of the members were sleeping on the third floor They had to pass through flames and smoke to reach the ground floor.

Women in the Alpha Delta Theta house were sleeping on the second floor and had no difficulty in escaping One girl was slightly bruised when she fell during the rush to reach the ground.

Firemen also extinguished a blaze at the Omega Beta Pi fraternity house, 202 South Twenty-seventh street, Saturday morning The cause was a spark from a chimney, and firemen reported slight damage to the roof

Another blaze at a sorority house Saturday was that at the Kappa Alpha Theta residence, 1545 S street, caused by an overflow from an oil burner in the basement No damage to the house was reported.

BRITISH CRISIS IS NOW SEEN

Divergent Views On Proposal To Increase Permanent Seats In League Council Causes Political Stir at London.

LONDON, Feb 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Divergent views on the proposal to increase the permanent seats in the council of the League of Nations are causing much of a political stir. The situation is referred to in some quarters as amounting to a cabinet crisis

This extreme view seems to be taken in view of the uncertainty as to how far Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, means to go in adhering to his opinion that enlargement of the council is bound to come, although he has not stated whether he is in favor of increasing the number of permanent seats at the same time that Germany is made a member of the league

There is a hint in one section of the press that Sir Austen will resign his portofolio unless he is given a free hand at Geneva

It is reported that if Poland, Brazil and Spain are given permanent seats in the council, China and Persia will demand like action for them.

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb 27.—(AP)—The Nebraska Press association at the concluding session of its annual convention here today went on record against passage of the Gooding bill which seeks to prevent the interstate commerce commission making the rate for the long haul lower than the rate for a short haul for an intermediate point

In addition, a resolution reiterating the association's "devotion to equal justice and fair play to all sections of our common country and our common citizenship" was adopted All resolutions passed unanimously

"Any policy, political or economical that tends to throttle the development of Nebraska's agricultural resources and discourages the development of industries consuming raw products of Nebraska deserves to be combatted by the Nebraska press, the resolution on the Gooding bill said

GENERAL SAYS MUSSOLINI IS AN ENSLAVER

Former Leading Figure In Fascist Party, Who Fled From Rome To Nice, Asserts Dictator Has Brought Anarchy, Murder and Riots To Italy.

NICE, France, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gen. Cesar Rossi declares he will give to the world the inside story of the rise of fascisimo in Italy, "created for a good cause and then prostituted by Benito Mussolini," even though threatened with bodily harm

The one time head of the fascist bureau in Italy and one of the leading figures in the fascist party, arrived yesterday, having fled from Rome to Genoa in an automobile and coming thence to Nice by motorboat.

General Rossi feels that Nice is too close to the Italian border and he will leave immediately for Paris He asserts that on the street of this Riviera city yesterday he was threatened four times by fascisti, who followed him from Rome to Genoa.

'Mussolini is the man responsible for the murder of DePuty Matteotti," General Rossi averred, referring to the kidnapping and killing of the socialist deputy, which long has been an issue between the opposition parties in Italy and the government

Says Merely Pawns.

'The others, who go to trial for the murder on March 16," he continued, "are merely pawns in a chess game which they don't understand.

"Free, free at last," Rossi shouted, heaving a sigh of relief "All that I have suffered I place to the credit of my political conceptions which started with Mussolini I intend to fight to a finish against him who betrayed fascisimo."

General Rossi seemed depressed, as he added. "He made slaves of all of us"

"I remember you," said General Rossi to the correspondent. 'I had my picture taken with you on Pincio Hill that memorable October day in 1923 when we entered Rome and Italy was before us What has fasisimo done with our country? Anarchy, murder, riots and a perpetual state of internal war for the greater grandeur of Mussolini"

Correspondent Threatened.

ROME, Feb 27.—By the Associated Press.)—A threat of violence against the Rome correspondent of the London Daily Express unless he leaves Italy was voiced today by Li Tevere, extreme fascist paper, in an open letter to the president of the Rome Association of Foreign Press Correspondents.

Li Tevere takes exception to the correspondent's story in which he said that Premier Mussolini was in such ill health that he was forced to live on a starvation diet The paper declares:

We fascists do not desire to seek out this correspondent nor do we desire to be constrained to put him with our compliments under the hoofs of the horse on which the Duce (Mussolini) takes his daily ride"

'Therefore," it says to the president of the association, "If you—and you undoubtedly do—find the activities of this vile scribbler disgusting, we urge you to advise him to make a change of surroundings"

RUSH FOR 1926 AUTO LICENSES

Close at 4, Says Sutherland, Despite Long Lines Of Late Comers.

An ever lengthening line of would-be auto license purchasers formed in the court house Saturday morning, waiting many minutes for service they might have had without delay at almost any time during the past two months Saturday was the last day before payment of the fees becomes delinquent

"Doors close at exactly 4 'clock, no matter how long the line is," asserted County Treasurer Sutherland "They've been warned for two months, and I owe it to my assistants to close then"

Only the dozen or so who can crowd in the narrow space inside the doors will be served after the 4 o'clock mark

Receipts Saturday undoubtedly would be the largest this year, Mr Sutherland predicted, although they may not top old records very far The previous high mark was $13,000, set on closing day in 1925 Receipts Friday were more than $6 000

Those who do not obtain licenses by closing time Saturday will run no danger of arrest or detainment by Lincoln police until Monday Chief Johnston has reconsidered his former announcement and will not start making arrests immediately after 4 o'clock Saturday as previously stated. The law gives autoists in this county the right to use their 1925 licenses until March 1

COOLIDGE FEARS TAX SLASH WILL BRING A DEFICIT

Signs Bill Although Says May Be $100,000,000 In "Red" Next Year.

Bases Hope On Possibility Greater Income With Growing Prosperity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Coolidge signed the tax reduction bill Friday, making it law, although he fears it may result in a treasury deficit of $100,000,000 a year hence.

This possibility was advanced to the executive by Director Lord of the budget who based it on present indications of government receipts and expenditures during the coming fiscal year. The president hopes, however, that increased prosperity will result from the tax cut, swelling government income above present estimates, and that congress will do its utmost to curtail expenditures.

Likelihood that there will be little if any surplus for the next year or two, in the president's opinion precludes the possibility of further tax reduction next year and perhaps for some time to come. Ultimately, however, he believes that gradual retirement of the debt with continued government economy will result in further federal tax relief.

An Extension Granted.

Immediately after Mr. Coolidge had affixed his signature to the $387,000,000 tax reduction measure, the treasury called attention that the new law allows an extension in time for payment of levies. It was announced that persons or domestic corporations with incomes of more than $5,000 would be allowed to file only tentative returns March 15, with payment of one-quarter of the estimate in the tax due, and then be given until May 15 to file final returns.

It was disclosed that the total amount of reduction produced for this and next year was above the figure which the president believes was possible, but that he realized it was the business of congress to determine finally how far this should go. Likewise the president felt it was now the business of congress to exercise care in making appropriations not recommended in the budget.

In this connection some alarm was felt at the white house over the proposal to authorize increased appropriations for the army and navy. It was pointed out that these services would cost $660,000,000 this year and if the proposed increases were allowed, the cost of each service would be increased by about 10 per cent or $60,000,000 together.

Coolidge Shows Concern.

Mr. Coolidge also showed some concern over data presented by Director Lord showing that the cost of all government, federal, state and local, had increased from $9,500,000,000 in 1921, to $11,500,000,000 in 1925. In this period, it was explained, the federal government had reduced its expenses by $2,000,000,000, and therefore the costs of the other governmental agencies must have increased $4,000,000,000. This annual tax amounts to almost 4 per cent of the estimated total wealth of the country, $300,000,000,000, it was pointed out.

Various proposals for increased appropriations now pending, including those for the army and navy, it was estimated at the white house, would demand in all $3,500,000,000 and would result in doubling the present actual cost of the government. Strict curtailment of these is necessary, it was emphasized.

The last two revenue bills have cut the cost of taxes by $700,000,000, it was estimated, resulting in a savings of $2,000,000 a day to federal taxpayers. The last previous bill was signed June 2, 1924.

DRY LAW CASES TOTAL 238,818

Fines Over $20,000,000, Justice Department Figures Show.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Prohibition prosecutions by the department of justice under the national dry act have totalled 238,818, H. M. Kennard, administrative accountant for the department of justice, told a house appropriation sub-committee in reports of hearings made public Friday.

Of these cases, Mr. Kennard said, 217,031 were criminal prosecutions and 21,787 were civil suits. Collections of fines and civil judgments totaled $20,000,000. The witness explained that the increase in civil actions was due largely to padlock cases and injunction proceedings.

Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, a member of the committee, and one of the leaders of the wets, remarked that "people do not seem to be taking particularly kindly to this law."

American Woman Loses Citizenship Through Marriage

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Peggy Hull Kinley, newspaper woman and war correspondent, who was born in Bennihgton, Kas., must leave the United States by May 1, because the immigration act bars American women who married foreigners prior to September 1, 1922.

She was married in Shanghai February 22, 1922, to Captain John Kinley, British steamship captain. When she applied to the American consul in Shanghai last October for a vise she was told she lost her citizenship and could only be admitted to her native country as a visitor.

Guerra Religiosa Bad.
Mujeres Desnudas Worse.
3,000 Bullseyes.
Canossa to Berlin.

By Arthur Brisbane.

The energetic Heraldo de Mexico, published in Los Anegeles by Rafael Quijano, says in big type, "Mexico esta zado por immente guerra religiosa," which means Mexico is imminently menaced by a religious war.

Mexico will do well to get rid of that menace by letting all religious bodies believe, preach and pray as they choose, as long as they don't meddle with each other or with government. Of all wars, religious wars are bloodiest, most brutal and destructive.

Governor Rodriguez, ruling North Mexican territory, threatens to close the border, shutting out California's exports. He resents United States criticism of conditions in the dives at Mexicali and Tijuana under Rodriguez dominion.

But, inasmuch as United States citizens are at the same time owners and customers of the dives, the blame certainly does not rest on Rodriguez or Mexico. That United States citizens cross the border to gamble and get drunk in American-owned dives on Mexican soil is a United States, not a Mexican disgrace.

Mexicans hurt by United States criticism find comfort on the front page of that Heraldo de Mexico of this date. In type, an inch high, Editor Quijano tells his readers:

"En un wild-party De Nueve York fueron banadas con champagne bellas y jovenes mujeres desnudas," which means, "Young and beautiful women in a wild party at New York bathe naked in champagne." The Spanish language, it seems, supplies no synonym for "wild party."

No wonder Mexico reminds us not to throw stones in glass houses.

You read of young Americans going to the dogs via the Charleston, jazz and bootleg whisky. Then Samuel Moore, 17-year-old captain of the high school rifle team at Newton, Mass., reassures you with his new world's record.

That young gentleman, it sounds unbelievable, made 3,000 consecutive bull's-eyes between 8 in the morning and 5 in the evening. Neither Charleston nor premature hootch has ruined that young man's nerves.

From Innsbruck, representatives of the Tyrolese cable Senator Borah asking him to curb Mussolini, calling attention to "Italian injustice in South Tyrol and Mussolini's threats against North Tyrol."

Senator Borah and others in the United States government should sympathize with the Tyrol and all the rest of Europe and stop short with sympathy. There should be no meddling or mixing in European affairs. Italy and Germany, full grown long before 1776, are old enough to attend to their own business.

Did you read Lloyd George's extremely interesting article on Mussolini's defiance of Germany? Nothing could be more interesting in showing how young the world is than the continuing struggle between Goths and Romans down to our own day.

That Brenner pass in the Tyrol interests Mussolini atavistically and practically. Through that pass the "Germanic barbarians" marched down to conquer the Italian peninsula, leaving there the blue eyes and flaxen hair, now conspicuous in northern Italy. Through that pass there came the northern warrior that sat dressed in his furs on the throne of the Caesars.

And through that same pass, perhaps, in our Christian days, rode the repentant German emperor, when he came to stand barefooted in the snow below the pope's window in midwinter humbly begging the pope's forgiveness at Canossa.

Bismarck, in one of his rows with the Catholic party, said, "We are not again going to Canossa." And now, with Bismarck and the old emperor in the grave, you have Mussolini, the Italian Bismarck, threatening to carry Canossa to Berlin.

This is written on the train from California to New York. Easterners, slipping over ice and snow, will be glad to know that in the sunshine at the San Bernardino station, it is almost uncomfortably hot, the fruit trees in blossom.

There is an excuse for the Eskimo, who stays with his ice and snow all winter. He doesn't know about California and hasn't car fare. But what excuse is there for those along the North Atlantic coast, or in the cold middle west, that do know, have car fare and leisure, and don't come to California.

Everything is booming and improving in this state and the greatest improvement of all, thanks largely to Hiram Johnson, is in government.

"Things used to be different," says John Francis Neylan, standing in the lobby of the state capitol at Sacramento pointing to the magnificent heavy wood doors into the senate and the assembly, he tells how it used to be.

There, as the senators solemnly marched to their seats, stood Jerry Burke, handing to each senator in the ranks of his safe and sane bought majority a narrow slip of paper. Opposite the number of each bill coming up was written "yes or no." And that is how they voted.

Walter Parker handed similar slips to each member of the bosses' majority in the assembly lobby. Burke and Parker were two subbosses under the big boss, and Lew Martin, sergeant-at-arms, kept all kinds of drinks for the obedient majority in his office nearby.

Changed are the good old days since Hiram Johnson started. He was elected governor by 19,000. Burke and Parker vanished. He was re-elected by 180,000. He was elected to the senate by 350,000.

Everything progresses here in California, real estate, crops, good government. Come to California, see the state, and on your way see the whole country.

If you can't come now, save up and arrange to come later. Here a reasonable income means health, happiness, comfort and opportunity. But in California, as everywhere else, a stranger without money invites worry and finds it.

DISTRIBUTE 1925 BAPTIST ANNUAL

Year Book of Nebraska Convention Tells Progress Of the Church.

The Nebraska Baptist Annual has just come from the press and is being distributed among the churches. Prof. Charles Firth of Grand Island college is the recording secretary of the Nebraska Baptist convention and has done the work of compiling the statistics and preparing the annual for publication. The annual is a book of 120 pages and gives a summary of the progress made by the Baptist churches of the state in the past year.

The financial situation is revealed as not up to that of the preceding year. The volume declares, however, that there was a financial slump in all the state conventions of the Northern Baptist convention and in the other denominations as well during 1925.

Some of the achievements recorded are as follows: The Omaha Baptist union and the Lincoln Baptist union report steady advance in their areas and both unions have assumed a wider field of work.

The summer assembly which is held in mid-summer at Grand Island college reached the highest attendance, 608, in its history in 1925. A new director of religious education was elected toward the close of 1925, in the person of Rev. Ezra Duncan.

Among the building projects carried on during the last year, the most extensive was the building of the educational unit of the First Baptist church of Omaha, giving that church a property now valued at $202,000. Superior erected a new building. Improvements in church buildings were made in the following places: Temple church, Lincoln; Bridgeport; Arnold; Beatrice; Columbus; Dickens; and Scottsbluff. A building was purchased at Arthur. Other churches made progress in paying off debts, among which were Benson and Parkside, Omaha; and Kearney.

The number of baptisms reported for the year was 1,286. Only six times has this record been exceeded since the organization of the convention in 1867.

Six ordinations to the ministry are reported for 1925: H. F. Damon of Maxwell; Ernest Hasselblad of Obert; C. E. Strong of Juniata; E. V. Garcia of Lincoln, Omaha; and Elmer Joker of Alexandria.

During 1925 there were thirty-five pastoral changes in the state which is much smaller than the preceding year when the number of changes was fifty-one.

The number of members reported is approximately 22,000, not including the German Baptists or the General Baptists.

CARTER ENTERS INNOCENCE PLEA

Trial Of Omaha Slayer To Take Place Middle Of March.

OMAHA, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Frank Carter, confessed "sniper bandit," went a step nearer to trial on two murder charges Friday when he pleaded not guilty in district court. Although he had intimated that he would plead guilty, Carter adhered to the advice of John N. Baldwin, public defender, when charges of shooting Dr. A. D. Searles and William McDevitt were read.

On the request of Baldwin, Judge Charles S. Goss set the case for trial on Monday, March 15, and appointed an alienist and physician to examine Carter's physical condition. Baldwin intimated that he would attempt to prove that Carter is insane.

Origin of Silencer.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Hartford Courant, says today that Frank Carter (Louis Clark) Omaha's sniper-killer, who killed two men, seriously wounded a third and for days terrified Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., used a revolver specially fitted with a silencer attachment made for him by Eugene G. Reissing, East Hartford inventor, now serving one to three years in a New York prison for supplying similar silencers to the notorious "Cowboy" Lessler gang.

SILENCE BROKEN BY COUNT SALM

Blames Separation To "Poor Advice" Given Young Wife.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraeten, emerging from retirement here Friday, announced informally that he would now be living happily with his wife, the former Millicent Rogers, if she had not been the "victim of poor advice."

Count Salm said his statement had been necessary in order to clear up erroneous reports published about his affairs.

Although regretting, he said, that the Countess Von Salm had received unwise advice, the count declared he earnestly hoped she would be happy. He has legal proceedings pending for separation, charging his wife with unjustifiable abandonment. This she has denied. A hearing in the case, Herman B. Goodstein of New York, the count's attorney, said probably would be held in New York in the latter part of June or October.

"Mutual love" only, Count Salm said in his statement, "was the reason for our marriage and its secrecy was not of my choosing. Our correspondence for nearly one year after our separation was wholly in terms of endearment.

"There was never any disagreement between us until my wife notified me suddenly that she would not return to me. I pleaded with her to consider, but she refused.

"I desire now only to be left alone. I am well able to take care of myself and pay my own way. I have not required or sought any financial assistance."

Count Salm said he would leave for New York Sunday and remain there a time before going abroad to enter training for the Davis cup matches.

Millicent Is Silent.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Countess Salm von Hoogstraeten paused long enough late Friday to read the statement of her husband in Washington blaming "poor advice" given to his wife as the cause of their troubles and announced that she had nothing to say on that "or any other subject." The former Millicent Rogers then hurried into a waiting limousine and drove away to a social engagement.

Report On Butter Tariff Is Now In Hands of Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—After considering for two years whether the dut yon butter should be increased, the tariff commission submitted a report Friday to President Coolidge. Its recommendation was not disclosed.

The present rate is 8 cents a pound. Under the law, the president can increase or decrease this levy 50 per cent.

An increase has been requested by American dairymen, who, when the tariff commission began its investigation, protested particularly against importations from Denmark. Later competition from Canada became more severe and this factor caused the commission to reopen its inquiry after it had been preparing a report some time ago.

Highway Contract Lettings

Only a few of the smaller items of graveling on state highways were put over Friday for lack of satisfactory bids, in the final stage of the three days' letting. The previous action of State Engineer Cochran and a number of county boards in rejecting all bids on 10 gravel projects, Wednesday and Thursday, apparently had the desired effect in bringing the proposals of contractors down.

Thirteen gravel projects for a total of 75 miles, more or less, were not awarded because the bids thereon were all considered too high. These will probably be readvertised for the next letting in March or April. A few other items were also rejected. The total of all contracts let during the past three days is a little less than 2 1-4 million dollars. Work is to start as soon as weather permits, on the various projects contracted for.

Grading for 6 projects in Custer county aggregating 16 miles was let Friday to the county board at 20 and 24 cents per cubic foot. Following is a list of awards made on the last day:

NO SUPPRESSION OF CRIME NEWS

Attorney General Spillman Talks To Nebraska Editors.

Says Correct Reports With Pointing Of Lesson Commendable.

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The press can and is doing much toward arousing public sentiment in favor of changes which are necessary to bring our system of jurisprudence to where it will meet present crime conditions and answer future demands, Attorney General O. S. Spillman declared in an address last night before the annual convention of the Nebraska Press association. The attorney general spoke on "Publication of crime news and law enforcement."

"I am not of that school that would prohibit the publishing of crime news," Attorney General Spillman declared. "In my opinion, if the summary of the facts is a fair reflection of the evidence in criminal cases and is presented to the public, and if lessons and the punishment of crime is emphasized and the prosecutors and the courts sustained in their efforts to protect the lives and the liberties and propery of the people, no one can estimate the amount of good that comes from such publicity.

There are many newspapers that are to be complimented upon their work along this line. However, these newspapers are not seeking to make crime news the main news. Likewise, they do not hesitate to give front page space to the history of a valuable life and the record of a splendid citizen in the community, or to any worth while movement on behalf of the people.

"On the other hand, let me say with equal frankness that there are some newspapers, and a substantial part of the municipal press which have much to answer for because of the methods pursued in securing crime news, as well as the manner of writing and publishing crime stories. Just as the stories of romance were woven about the black characters of the middle ages, to an extent that outlaws became the subjects of hero worship of the people, so today, outlawry in the United States is often painted with all the alluring touches of boldness and audacity, made romantic by well placed touches of sentiment and emotion in the story of the metropolitan newspaper writer. These stories frequently arouse the public mind to sympathy for a criminal who has violated society's most sacred mandates. Similar instances have been repeated many times in the city of Chicago. Take the Durkin case— a beer runner, an automobile thief, a murderer of officers in pursuit of their duty, yet the newspaper in reporting his crime could not conceal the gloat of thousands who delighted in the escape f this scundrel.

"In my opinion, it is equally detrimental to the press whether it publishes a lying news story, or suppresses a true one. The inalculable benefits that would come if all newspapers were to report crime, not as a romantic adventure, but as a vile conspiracy against the laws of God and man, would do much to bring our country back to safe and sane law observance."

Lady Cynthia Mosley In Chicago For Legal Contest.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. — (By the Associated Press.)—Lady Cynthia Mosley today is in the city where her mother, Mary Leiter, was a popular belle of society when she married Lord Curzon thirty years ago, but society has seen nothing of the titled visitor.

Instead, residents of the "gold coast" have read of Lady Cynthia's visit to national headquarters of the socialist party and to Hull House, and perused a program of future activities which includes a trip to Milwaukee to meet Victor Berger, socialist congressman, and visits to mines and pottery plants

"There is an international bond between socialists," explained the grandaughter of Levi Z. Leiter, pioneer Chicago merchant. With her husband, Capt. Oswald Mosley, labor member of the British parliament, Lady Cynthia is here to participate in a legal contest involving her grandfather's $100,000,000 estate.

While news columns were carrying accounts of Lady Cynthia's views on socialism and her husband's speech at the Hull House dinner, society reporters were commenting on "the hide and seek tactics" the visitors had played with the social world. They learned that Lady Cynthia had accepted one invitation to a dinner party.

John Sousa Says Music Responsible For Short Skirts

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Music is responsible for short skirts.

This was the opinion expressed here last night by John Phillip Sousa, noted band director.

"Music—particularly jazz and its forerunners—brought dancing," he explained. "And dancing brought a need for freedom of the feet.

"Florence Mills herself could not do the Charleston in a skirt with a bustle and a ground sweeping hem.

"Dancing brought another inducement for abbreviated skirts. This exercise develops the legs and made them more presentable than legs formerly had been."

Mr. Sousa also stated that dancing and golf are responsible for masculine golf toggery, because they develop the male leg.

"Plus fours," he said, "would not have become popular if the legs revealed hat no claims to shapeliness."

MANTON DIVORCE SUIT ABANDONED

Action Clears Marjorie Rambeau Of Co-respondent Charges.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. — (By the Associated Press.) — Reconciliation of William Kevitt Manton, actor, and his wife, Mrs. Mabel Manton, has cleared Marjorie Rambeau, actress, of co-respondent charges in a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Manton.

In the chambers of Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel, the reconciliation was effected in a thirty minute conference. Mrs. Manton dropped her case. She has heard her husband testify that he still loved her and that there was no basis for her charges against Miss Rambeau.

Withdrawal of the suit is expected to eliminate prospect of another suit against Miss Rambeau for $100,000 for alienation of affections.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Character cup is a new award to be given at the end of each year to that boy who is adjudged to have maintained the highest standards of Christian character for the year. This cup will be given by the Hi-Y club. All boys in school will be eligible. The Hi-Y members will ballot secretly for the winner of the cup and the five high boys in this general nomination will be considered by the chairman of the advisory committee of the Hi-Y, the chairman of the boys' work committee, the boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., a member of the Lincoln high school faculty and the president of the Hi-Y club, the latter only if he is not on the list. If the president is named, another club officer will take his place.

In accordance with the harmonica contests in the grade schools, by request of the physical director, Earl Johnson, the student council will sponsor such a contest in the high school. Carroll Pauley is chairman of the committee in charge.

Glenn E Jackson national high school boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spoke at the regular Hi-Y meeting. He told of his experiences in Hi-Y work and of the Florida Hi-Y congress, which he feels is the best type of conference for Hi-Y work. Before the meeting he addressed the boys' work, advisory, and cabinet committees on enlarging Hi-Y work in Lincoln. The ideas presented by Mr. Jackson will be used in partial reorganization of the club, which will take place April 1. In place of the weekly discussion a debate was held on "Resolved, That dancing be permitted in the Hi-Y." The affirmative was upheld by Hamilton Hatfield, Laurence Tyler and Jack Goodwin, and the negative, by Carroll Pauley, Eugene Robb and George Gant.

The Forum banquet will be held next Friday evening in the high school cafeteria. Decorations and toasts will be suggestive of St. Patrick's day. The toast list includes Archie McMillen, Carroll Pauley, George Gant, Eugene Robb, Lucile Hac, and Helen Seymour. Hamilton Hatfield will be toastmaster.

With one victory to the credit of both South Omaha and Lincoln, these two are at the bottom of the Missouri Valley debate league. Last week the negative team journeyed to South Omaha and sustained another defeat. The affirmative team, however, won a complete victory over South Omaha Thursday evening. The negative team has lost every debate but one by a 2 to 1 decision, but the affirmative, while collecting all the votes Thursday has secured only one 2 to 1 decision. The league season closed with Thomas Jefferson high school of Council Bluffs at the top. The Lincoln teams which have fought a losing battle are composed of Archie McMillen Carroll Pauley, Hamilton Hatfield, Frank Ross, Arthur Bukin and John Ames.

Extra-curricular activities in Lincoln high school will be systemized by a joint committee of faculty and students. The student committee has not yet been appointed, but Paul N. Campbell, director of student activities, has appointed the following faculty members to serve. They are Miss Gertrude Jones, chairman, Miss Ruth Price, Harold W. Browne, Miss Bardwell, Paul N. Campbell, S. Adella Winter, Miss Margaret Davis, Foster Machett, Will French, Miss Olivia Pound, Miss Mariel C. Gere, Miss Hullhorst, Miss Anderson.

THE UTILITIES MERGER.

Announcement of the consolidation of the public utility interests in Lincoln had previously been foreshadowed in the news columns and hence occasioned no surprise when completed. The merger of the gas, electric lighting and traction interests, it has been recognized for some time, was inevitable through force of economic pressure.

Almost universal use of the automobile as a means of conveyance in recent years has been a serious blow, not only in Lincoln but in all cities in America with the possible exception of a few of the largest metropolitan centers, to the street car companies operating within their limits. The situation has become so acute that many cities were threatened with ultimate complete suspension of street car service. In Lincoln, the Traction company has been able to meet a certain part of its operating expense through the sale of electric current.

Heretofore the business of supplying electricity to the homes and business and industrial establishments of this community has been divided three ways. The Lincoln Traction company, the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light company and the municipal plant have all been selling current. This has made it necessary for the commercial companies to maintain separate plants, with all of the fixed charges and overhead expenses which such operation implies and requires If the proper management and the proper business methods are pursued, it is entirely obvious the consolidated company will be able to operate with greater economy and should be in a position to render a greater and a more satisfactory service to the city. A betterment of service, it would seem, is one of the principal benefits which may reasonably be expected to come from the merger.

It would seem absurd that to supply Lincoln adequately three systems of pole lines, carrying the high voltage wires required, are needed. It is an extravagance in duplication of equipment and a disfigurement of the streets of Lincoln which should not be required. In every instance the public foots the bill for duplicated service. With this in mind, there has been very little opposition to the plans of the merger which has now been consumated, and in the minds of a great many of Lincoln's citizens, the change is welcome. However, the patrons of the consolidated companies will expect an improved service and fair treatment. The new control will undoubtedly, in good business judgment, see that this be done. Its contact with the Lincoln public has been most satisfactory since it took over control and operation of the property of the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light company. In fact the very fine relations which it has succeeded in establishing are very largely responsible for the public attitude at this time.

WHERE THE "WOLF NEVER HOWLS."

Apropos of the agricultural situation, and in direct contradiction of the distressing picture which has been too frequently painted, there is a spot in Wyoming, just across from the Nebraska line, where "the wolf never howls."

It is the 80-acre farm near Torrington, operated jointly by brothers, L. C. and R. L. Garman. Out of this eighty, sixty-eight acres are irrigated and the remainder devoted to dry farming. In the last five years the two brothers have been able to operate the farm profitably enough to pay the purchase price of the land, to construct a very splendid group of farm buildings, to equip it with modern machinery and to stock it.

How did they do it?

An inventory of their operations in 1925 may provide an explanation. They planted five acres to potatoes, from which they obtained an average yield of 250 bushels an acre. They had thirty-two acres of sugar beets which averaged 20 tons to the acre, or a yield of 640 tons. On twelve acres of onions, they averaged 625 bushels to the acre or a total crop of 7,500 bushels. The remainder of the land was put into alfalfa from which they realized a big yield.

The Messrs Garman have no complaint to offer on farm conditions, it is a fair guess. They do their own work. They use care in choosing the crops which they plant. They spread their efforts so that some of the produce which they raise is certain to command favorable prices. It would be difficult to pick more remunerative crops than potatoes, sugar beets, onions and alfalfa.

The diversity of farming efforts and intensive methods after all offer the most excellent solution of the farmers' problem. The agriculturist who relies upon one or even two crops may encounter trouble. But the man who raises many crops and who is able to do most of his own work is more certain of large returns from the farm than any line of industry in which he might engage.

WHY PICK ON PONZI?

Three different prosecutions which have been started against Charles Ponzi, the famous financial sleight-of-hand man, based on his operations in selling Florida real estate, show commendable zeal on the part of federal and state officials there in protecting investors, so far as it goes; but why the hand of the law should descend on just one man and leave many others engaged in similar activities untouched is rather puzzling to figure out.

Ponzi, it is true, has been once convicted of swindling a great many people in a huge confidence game in Massachusetts, and served several years in prison therefor. He may be using illegal methods at the present time in seeking to get people to put their money into his real estate development project. However, it can hardly be said that the public does not have full warning as to what it might expect from dealing with him. His name and fame extend all over the country, having been blazoned repeatedly in big headlines in all the newspapers in connection with his fantastic financial schemes. It is scarcely to be supposed that his clientele could include anyone not thoroughly familiar with his methods.

Not so with numerous other promoters and financial sharks who until more recent months were reaping golden harvests down in the peninsula state, at the expense of people who have been lured thither in the hope of getting rich quick. Unlike Ponzi, they are not known by name to their prospective victims. They and their agents were busy selling "town lots" and "residential acreages" out in the swamps to gullible tourists from all parts of the United States. The mails are filled with literature offering fabulous returns to those who are willing to risk their cash, sight unseen, on the promise that "you can't lose."

It really seems as though the officials in Florida and in Washington could render greater service in keeping people from being fleeced than by concentrating their whole attention and efforts on a man who is already in bad repute from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific.

They might not get so much free advertising if they went after some who were less well known, but they would no doubt save a good many more human flies from walking into the parlors of promotion spiders. Florida herself is making an effort to curb the activities of this type of promoter.

SPAIN TURNS THE CORNER.

When the United States declared war upon Spain in 1898, the journalists of that country referred constantly to the American people as a nation of pigs. That was about the only answer which Spain could make to the idealistic aims which America set forth in the formal declaration of armed strife. That Uncle Sam should sacrifice riches and men for oppressed peoples was beyond the understanding of the Spanish people.

Spain has always been a most backward nation.

There are indications she at least turning the corner.

Under official orders from the police ,the practice by picadors of using horses in the national pastime of bull fighting has been forbidden. This is a marked victory for the humane societies which have been working for nearly a quarter of a century to prevent the sacrifice of aged and decrepit horses. No more heartlessly cruel practice has prevailed than the custom which sickened foreign visitors to Spanish shores. Incredible as it may seem, the Spanish populace enjoyed the spectacle of an infuriated bull disemboweling a horse. That public opinion has revolted is an evidence that Spain is freeing herself of the shackles. The old saying that one's attitude toward dumb animals furnishes a good index of character still holds good as against individuals and peoples.

SHORT AND SNAPPY.

Omaha's "sniper bandit" has expressed the hope the officials will make it short and snappy.

He dreads life imprisonment—he's served time before ;he wants to die.

Fortunately nature has decreed that he will not live long for he is said to be in the final stages of an incurable disease. But the officials of Douglas county should see to it that Carter gets his wish. They should give him his trial without delay, and if a jury decides he should pay with his life, he should be sent to the chair within the minimum time. Here is one case at least where the public conscience need not be greatly troubled. He has confessed his atrocious crimes and his own story is corroborated by the loot found on his person.

This country used $30,000,000 worth of ice cream last year. The hot dog statistics are a little late but will bring the motorists diet bill up to at least $100,000,000.

An up-state New York paper says in the headline: "Woman Killed While Getting her Husband's Breakfast in a Horrible Manner."

Diet and Health

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Coated Tongue.

C.—In normal health the mouth is continuously bathed by the alkaline saliva which has bactericidal properties; that is, it kills off bacteria. Those of us who keep our mouth open too much and more or less dry out the saliva, may be subected to coated tongue even though we are not in ill health, for the tongue forms an ideal incubation ground for yeasts, molds and other microscopic organisms that abound in the air. This applies especially to those who sleep all night with their mouths open. (Any obstruction in the nose or throat which causes mouth breathing should be attended to for it will cause worse troubles than coated tongue.)

In conditions of ill health from any cause, the tongue will become coated whether the mouth is open or not, because the saliva has more or less lost its germicidal power. However not so much significance is placed on the condition of the tongue as a diagnostic symptom as formerly. One of my professors used to say that a coated tongue is largely an indication that food wasn't masticated thoroughly. Most people notice that when they drink milk their tongue becomes coated. That is not to be considered a bad symptom at all, in this case.

The tongue should be washed as well as the teeth, twice a day, and if there is a coating, it should be gently removed with a tongue scraper. There are little bone scrapers that you can get at the drug stores, or you can use a piece of whalebone or a spoon—anything that isn't too sharp. Washing the mouth and tongue and teeth very thoroughly before retiring, and keeping the mouth shut during the night should prevent more than the normal coating in the morning.

A coated tongue naturally may give a bad breath, and if it is due to ill health, intestinal or otherwise, you must remedy this, before you can expect relief.

62 and Peppy.

"I am 62 years old and am five feet tall. At the time I sent for your reducing instruction. I weighed 165 pounds. I haven't weighed myself since, but I know I've reduced quite a lot, for when I came to put on some clothes I hadn't worn since the year before, my dresses were so large I had to alter them. 'Peterizing' is the surest, safest and easiest way to reduce, and it made me feel and look so much better, that I don't know how to thank you enough. I can walk for miles now and not tire a bit.—Mrs. E."

Now here is Mrs. E., 62 years old, with enough ambition and will power to reduce! And see what results she has gotten. Doesn't it put to shame some of you younger people who are postponing reduction?

I'll wager you enjoyed altering those dresses, Mrs. E.

For five feet in height, you should weigh about 110. Get down to that, but do it very slowly. At your age, not more than three or four pounds a month.

Evidently you haven't a scale of your own. If you can afford to invest in a good bathroom scale, you ought to do so. One who has a tendency to overweight must always watch it. We all should weigh ourselves at least once a week, and if there is more than three or four pounds variation, it should be attended to then. Naturally, it is much easier to gain or lose a small amount.

Thanks ever so much for writing, Mrs. E.

Those of you who need it had better send for our reducing booklet. (A self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps with request brings it.)

Boils.

Miss. F.—Our article on Boils can be obtained by the request accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

My dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper Make them as brief as possible NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

PEACHES AND PERSIMMONS

History devotes few pages to men of a retiring disposition.

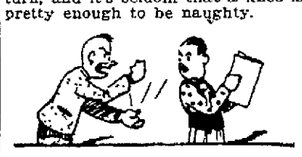

A woman likes to tell what she knows; a man likes to tell what he thinks.

Another sure sign that a man is drunk is his conviction that he needs another lil' drink.

Advocates of income tax publicity didn't use their best argument. They didn't even try to prove that incomes are scandalous.

A writer speaks of "complacent provincials." Who ever heard of any other kind?

The wicked are thwarted at every turn, and it's seldom that a knee is pretty enough to be naughty.

A boss doesn't really enjoy insulting his helpers unless he feels inferior to them.

Description: "He's the kind of fellow who holds the valve cap when theres' a tire to pump up."

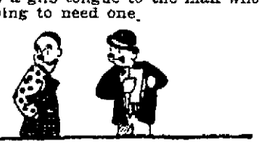

One advantage a great traveler has is that hardly anything surprises his stomach.

Nearly every town has a man who looks dignified because he once was nominated for something or other.

Still, it's doubtful whether anybody in the Golden Age of Pericles really knew how to polish an apple.

Those who say prosperity is sending Americans to hell always sound too envious to be convincing.

Nature knows and usually she gives a glib tongue to the man who is going to need one.

The sad part is that you could have done without the things the bill collector comes to talk about.

Well, static may sound much like a foreign station to a man who doesn't mind lying.

One sure fire way to put the farmer on Easy street would be to give him about five votes.

It's yellow blood that makes eyes slant, but it's a yellow streak that makes them focus on the top button of your waistcoat.

If people were more accustomed to religion in their private lives, it wouldn't trouble them so much in politics.

HIGH BUILDING RECORD IS SET

Greater Total In Last Six Months Than For Any Previous Year.

February Third Highest Month With Permits Reaching $1,177,574.

Building permits issued by Building Inspector Peck during the last six months have aggregated more than the largest year previous to 1925, when a total of more than 7 million was made. The permits for the six months amounted to $4,754,214. They follow:

September, 1925	$1,501,120
October	1,256,762
November	361,603
December	355,985
January, 1926	101,170
February	1,177,574
	$4,754,214

February, 1926, stepped into third place among the high building permit months when the records were closed at noon Saturday, by making a total of $1,177,574. The two previous high months were September, 1925, when an aggregate of $1,501,120 was made, and October with $1,256,762. These three months alone top any previous record made in twelve months, that for 1923, $3,195,000 being the highest until 1925.

February permits were divided $203,324 for residential construction and $974,250 for structures classed as business houses. The bulk of this however, includes the Irving junior high school and the Park elementary school.

February permits in 1924 were $162,603, and in 1925, $241,710.

For the first two months of this year the total is far ahead of any similar period of record.

Much Alcohol Is Being Made With Vinegar

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Vinegar is being used in large quantities by bootleggers in the manufacture of synthetic alcohol.

John Whitehead, an agent of the internal revenue bureau, announces that he has uncovered this new and cheap process of making alcohol. He says manufacture is on a large scale all over the country, and if it is not quickly checked it will make prohibition enforcement all but impossible.

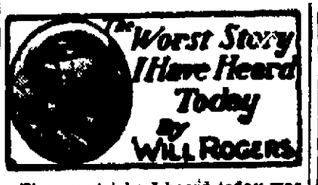

In an investigation under way since last November he has learned that with vinegar and two chemicals obtainable at any drug store, alcohol may be made as cheaply as 50 cents a gallon. No still is required for the process. Whitehead says there is no way to prevent the manufacture unless the bootlegger is caught with the alcohol in his possession.

In the process, the vinegar is placed in a vat, the chemicals thrown in and the mixture allowed to stand. After a period of time the chemicals sink to the bottom of the vat, leaving the alcohol on top.

William G. Murdock, federal prohibition administrator for Pennsylvania, is giving the matter attention.

"A bootlegger can buy 1,000 gallons of vinegar and turn it into high grade and safe quality of alcohol," White says. "That is exactly what is going on all over the country at this moment."

Traces of the new alcohol have been found in Baltimore, Newark, N. J., Chicago, Washington, D. C., and this city.

The worst joke I heard today was told to me by Houston Payne of Ft. Smith, Ark. You all know Ft Smith, Ark. It's the twon where they used to take everybody from Oklahoma to hang 'em. It's reformed more Oklahomans than all the churches. In fact, it is about the only way to make a good Oklahoman. There used to be hundreds of Oklahomans come there every year, just to be hung. Well, Houston has lived there all his life, what time he wasn't going to school with me at Boonville, Mo. He was one of the meanest boys in Kemper. I could never understand why Ft. Smith just hung outsiders. They never seemed to hang home talent.

Well, he come down to Little Rock to see me. He is a big contractor up there now, and has jobs all over the country, so it don't do much good for a boy to be good at school anyway. Here I was the best boy in the school, and in after years it don't mean anything. He tells me Ft. Smith is one of the best towns in the state, and that an Oklahoman can come there now and return back home without being lifted out of the baggage car. Mind you, I don't think Oklahoma has improved any. That hanging thing wasn't a bad idea at all. I asked him if Ft. Smith had grown. "Grown! I have seven children myself!" I asked him if they supplied Oklahoma with as much liquor as they used to. He said, "No, just a bottle to get back home on. They mostly make their own up there now. The long haul and cost of transportation has changed the whole aspect of the liquor business. They make it and coffee every morning, as a few of the older ones can't get over preferring coffee."

As I said, John has about any age child you want. He told me of one of his boys who had become a boy scout. His father asked him one day, knowing that a scout is supposed to do one good turn every day, "What did you do today, Houston, as your good deed today?"

"Oh," said Houston, jr. "Mother had only castor oil enough for one dose, and I let brother take it.

Eight Loan Firms Licensed for 1926 Under Special Law

Secretary of State Pool has completed an examination of the different loan companies in Nebraska, operating under chapter 25, compiled statutes of Nebraska. These companies are commonly referred to as "loan sharks" because they loan on chattel mortgages and are permitted to demand and collect a greater charge for the use of their funds than are other loaning institutions of the state.

All licenses are issued to expire on March 1 of the ensuing year. There are eight of those companies authorized to transact business in Nebraska for the period beginning March 1, 1926.

The examinations just made show that these several companies have loaned during the twelve months period $1,171,981.60, upon which the interest and brokerage charges amount to $97,271.81, an average of 12½ per cent. Seven companies in Omaha, and one in Lincoln have been granted permits for the ensuing year.

There were thirteen foreclosures, involving $13,086.10 during the year.

Fines Taxi Driver $100 On Charge of Transporting Liquor

Charged with illegal possession and transportation of liquor, Melvin Ramsey, taxicab driver, was found guilty on the transportation count and fined $100 and costs by Municipal Judge E. B. Chappell Saturday morning. The complaint of possession was dismissed.

Ramsey was arrested after he is alleged to have transported three persons with a jug of alleged liquor He disclaimed knowledge that the jug contained liquor and declared that he was not accepting a fee when he received $2.45 from his passengers. He said it was a tip, although an unusually large one.

Wesley Siegfried, Ira Voorhies, Karl Schmidt, Leo Kromer, and R. D. Bennett testified for the state. Ramsey, Luther Van Cleve, Eugene C. Smith and Arthur J. Euras for the defense.

Ramsey's attorney served notice of appeal and bond was furnished at $1,000.

Linder, 67, well known business man at Broken Bow, died there suddenly at 10:30 a. m., Saturday from heart failure He had returned from a visit down town and as he entered the kitchen of his home he fell over dead. Grants Injunction On Use of Name

Lou Hill and George Frickel are permanently enjoined from using the name "College Tailors" in their advertisements or publicity, under an order issued Saturday morning by Judge Broady.

The College Tailors of College View brought suit some time ago against Frickel and Hill to obtain this injunction, alleging that its standing as an old time suit shop was being injured, and its trade being drawn away.

Neither answer nor demurrer to this action has been filed by the defendants, and Judge Broady rules that:

"The defendant has committed acts amounting to unfair trade practices which would result in misleading the customers of the plaintiff and the public in general by using prominently displayed in his advertising the words 'College Clothes' and 'College Tailors and Cleaners.'"

CHAPTER 72.

"There is no use," James Hay declared. "I cannot tell you all the facts."

He had seated himself on the couch and had drawn the girl down to a seat at his side.

She wiped the tears from his face with her own handkerchief—gently, as if he were a little boy in grief.

"I do not ask you to tell me all the facts," she assured him. "But I am no fool, Jim. I can see through some things. I have a right to ask a few questions, and I am going to ask them. So do not forbid it."

He could not stop her questioning him. If her questions led her to certain conclusions, it was not his fault.

"I shall not forbid it," he said. He was spent and exhausted from his hysterical outburst. Ordinarily he would have cursed himself for his womanish weakness. Now he was thankful for it, since it had moved this girl's heart. "I do not promise to answer all questions categorically," he added.

She seemed not to hear this last sentence.

"I will tell you what I believe to be the truth," she said, "up to a certain point. You must correct me if I am wrong."

He nodded in silence.

"You left me this morning with all expectations of our marrying in August. You had a long talk with your brother. At the end of that talk you knew we could not be married at the time we planned for."

"Yes," he murmured.

"What your brother told you changed your plans, of course."

Again he nodded.

"And what he told you must have related to himself, or you would have known it already," the girl said.

She paused, but he made no comment.

"Your silence shows me I am right," she affirmed. "The thing you discussed was about business—or money."

Again she paused. Again he made no response. "It was certainly nothing about a woman," she said suddenly," was it, Jim"?

"My conscience is clear and clean with regard to women," he answered solemnly.

He fancied that she caught her breath as he uttered the first word of his sentence. He had purposely accented it. She would think it had been accidental.

"Then," she said quickly, "it is on your brother's account that we cannot marry yet. I can draw my own conclusions."

"Don't draw harsh ones, dear," he urged softly. "Everybody makes a mistake some time. The innocent always suffer with the guilty."

"It is not fair," she exclaimed. "Why should you and I suffer because your brother has gotten into some scrape?"

"Alice! Alice!" he warned reproachfully, "I have not said that Jack has gotten into some scrape."

"You do not have to!" she declared. "Can you deny that but for him and some money trouble we would be married in August? Can you deny that?"

"No," he admitted regretfully. "But for poor old Jack—and some money difficulty—we would be married in August. But, dear, do not judge too harshly. We—he and I—must protect the Hay name at any cost. It was our father's name, you see. And, dear—some way may be found out of the difficulty. But certain money must be paid—and until it is paid I must not incur further expense. How soon it will besettled depends on someone besides me."

"On your brother!" she exclaimed. "Oh how clever he has been! Dad—and everybody else—thinks him so fine—yes, I may as well say it—they think him finer than you! And here it is you who are shieldin him! You—silently, cheerfully, standing between him and trouble! He has more money than you, yet yau are trying toget him out of some disgraceful scrape."

"Hush, dear," James urged. "He did not consider it disgraceful. Do not fancy, Alice," with sudden magnanimity, "that it was an fair with a woman."

"You would not admit it if it was!" the girl insisted hotly. "In spite of your generosity and loyalty I do not say that I believe your statement entirely. But I do not want to talk about it. All I do want want to say is that I trust you, and love you—and that I hate your brother!"

She must not hate him, James reproved her sadly. He was well content with his evening's work. He made assurance doubly sure now by remarking that perhaps John might want to have a little talk with her, might try to make her see his side of the question.

"If so, darling, be lenient in your judgement of him," he urged. "Naturally he will try to prejudice you in his favor. He always manages to make people look at things from his viewpoint. But," kissing her. "I am not afraid he will succeed in your case. For sweetheart in spite of all your anger with me a while ago. I am more sure than ever of your love for me.

"So am I," she whispered. "Dear, forgive me all the dreadful things I said, please. I was cut, and my pride was hurt. I was a bit crazy for a minute. I think."

"We will forget all that," he soothed. "We understand each other fully now. Hark!"

"What it is?" she asked.

"The front door shutting," he replied. "John has come home."

He crossed the room quickly and opened his door.

"Aunt Kate and my conventional brother might be shocked if they found this door shut," he explained with a wry smile.

ACCEPT INCOME TAX SCHEDULES

Local Internal Revenue Office Authorized Friday to Take Filings.

Following the receipt of a telephone message from the collector of internal revenue at Omaha Friday afternoon the branch office here was authorized to begin accepting income tax schedule filings. The order was verified by letter Saturday morning.

Everything has been in readiness for several weeks but the actual work of filing the tax schedules was held up until the enactment of the new income tax regulations by congress. The bill was signed by President Coolidge shortly after 10 o'clock Friday morning. The order authorizing the release of schedules reached the Lincoln office slightly less than four hours afterwards.

There was no great rush of Lincoln people to file their schedules Saturday morning although the office force was kept busy answering inquiries by telephone. Only a dozen or more persons appeared at the office during the morning to make their filings.

Schedules with inserted slips setting out the new provision and exemptions were mailed out Friday afternoon. However, persons not receiving schedules by mail will be required to call for them or otherwise suffer the penalties provided by the law for failure to make an income tax report.

Mrs. Fred Gardner, a member of the Lincoln unit, offered a cup as a trophy for the largest per cent gain in membership in the district during the year.

Duncan to Offer A Radio Measure To City Council

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use or operate a vibrator radio battery charger between 6 o'clock in the evening and 1 a. m., under an ordinance drafted by the city legal department Saturday.

The ordinance will be presented to the council Monday for first reading by Commissioner Duncan and he believes it will be passed.

Enactment of the ordinance, according to Mr. Duncan, will not "purify" the air but will be an initial step in that direction.

He hopes that as a result of the ordinance radio owners will unite and through an educational campaign reduce interference and at the same time assist with the financial end until the city can raise the funds necessary to bring radio receiving and interference under control.

Under the ordinance a radio department would be created in the street department, and an inspector would be named It also provides that violators of the statute shall upon conviction, he fined in a sum not exceeding $100.

Open Proposals For Construction Of a New Sewer

Bids for the construction of a sewer between D and F streets and Twenty-eighth and Thirty-first were opened Saturday morning by the city engineer. J L Deffenbaugh offered to do the work for $2,700, George L. Vlasnik, $2,677 and Knudson & Co., $2,749.

Protest against the inclusion of nine property owners between D and E and Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets was filed this week with the city clerk, and as a result the course of the sewer will be changed, it is said at the city engineer's office.

Those protesting, members of the council declare, will be given a sewer now only when they petition for it.

LINCOLN GIRL TO SING IN PAGLIACCI

Miss Frances Gettys Makes Grand Opera Debut at Rome March 6.

Miss Frances Gettys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gettys of Lincoln, will make her debut in grand opera in the Constantzi theater at Rome March 6. She is a soprano, and according to a cablegram recieved Tuesday by her father, will sing the lead in Pagliacci.

"My daughter has been singing grand opera scores for years," Mr. Gettys said Saturday morning, "but this will be her first appearance with a grand opera company."

When Miss Gettys steps from the wings on her first cue in Pagliacci, she will carry with her the good wishes and congratulations of the city of Lincoln, the business interests and civic divisions.

Announcement was made Saturday morning by Mayor Zehrung that he and the members of the city council will send Miss Gettys a cable reading: "Congratulations. Lincoln is with you." Other cables also will be sent including one from the chamber of commerce and it is understood, another from the civic clubs as a unit.

Miss Gettys was granduated from the University of Nebraska 1918. Following her graduation she taught French for two years.

She then went on chautauqua for four years and sang in many of the principal cities of the United States and Canada. She was associated with the premier chautauqua companies of this country.

Miss Gettys has been in Europe for eight months, her father said

Would Send Father To Kearney For a Tuberculosis Cure

For four years Lancaster county has supported a family of seven. Friday it got tired of the job and brought the family up to see District Judge Broady.

"I can't work," said the father, Nothing especially the matter, with him, just ill. Doctors agree that he cannot work, say he has tuberculosis, and want to send him to the Kearney hospital for a cure.

"They'd put me to bed for three weeks," said the father. "I'd be dead in two."

Judge Broady doesn't think so. He advised the father to go to Kearney and become well. Otherwise the children, who are in danger of infection, may be taken away from them. He gave the father three days to think it over.

So the parents and their five children, some of them half grown, went downstairs, climbed into their Ford touring car, and went home to think it over.

BIG BREAK IN STOCK PRICES

Specialties Tumble In Sensational Ending Of Saturday Trading.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—A wide open break in a number of specialities, phich apparently had been bid up to extravagant heights by pool manipulations, provided a sensational ending for today's stock market. Verdict Against Martin In His Damage Action

Rev. Frank F. Travis, defendant in a $15,000 damage suit, won a verdict Friday afternoon in District court.

Nelson Martin, an employe of the Lincoln state hospital, brought the action. He alleged that he was permanently injured in an accident last fall at Twenty-third and Q streets, and that it was caused by Rev. Travis' negligence. Rev. Travis denied that he was at fault.

The jury went out at 11:10 a. m. Friday, following a two-day trial, and returned at 5:20 p. m.

Collins was arrested early Saturday morning after police received a call fron. J. E. Lawrence, 1436 B street, who said that a man had been prowling near his home. Lawrence, Donald Bell, Carl Junge, and Walter Gardner followed the man in an automobile until police arrived.

Collins told Judge Chappell Saturday that he was intoxicated and did not know what he was doing. Police matched his shoes with foot-prints near Lawrence's residence, they said.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

WASHINGTON, — (AP) —Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, is arranging for a conference Monday night between house members and farm organization representatives to discuss legislation. He announced Friday he was planning at that time to have the farm representatives discuss the recent Des Moines farm conference with members of congress, and explain to them the wishes of western farmers. A number of farm organization officials arrived here Friday to appear at hearings to be held by the house agricultural committee on farm legislation next week.

OAKLAND, Cal.—(AP)—The Superior court here Friday upheld the adoption of 1-year-old Lawrence Beckwith, potential heir to a $400,000 Massachuetts fortune, by Miss Anita Hodgkin, church deaconness, in an action in which eastern guardians of the child had sought to have the adoption overturned.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Funds for reclamation work are not involved in any way with any treasury conditions which may arise from the reduction of taxes, it was stated Friday at the white house. While some fear has been expressed in administration circles that the new revenue bill would cut taxes to a point which might endanger a treasury deficit, President Coolidge is of the opinion that reclamation work will not be involved in this connection. It was pointed out at the white house that funds for reclamation work will not be involved in this connection. It was pointed out at the white house that funds for reclamation projects came out of a revolving fund supplied by receipts of the sales of lands, fees and charges of various kinds on the projects.

CHICAGO—(AP)—A jury Friday accepted the story of Mrs. Hortense P. Strauss, a widow, that Joseph P. Frolich, her erstwhile fiance, claimed to be superstitious and awarded her $8,500 for breach of promise. She said they were to have been married October 12, 1922, but that he objected to starting a honeymoon on October 13 and deferred the wedding and finally refused to marry her. Frolich said his fiancee was too unromantic, that her letters read like business correspondence and when he kissed her she slapped him.

CLEVELAND, O.—(AP)—The surrender of Frank Fogel, one of the reputed wealthy heads of the alleged nation wide bootleg alcohol conspiracy, and the arrest of Julius Michael, St. Paul garage owner, were Friday's outstanding events of the federal grand jury investigation of the ring. The jury recessed until Monday. The surrender of Fogel at Philadelphia was announced by George A. Golding, intelligence unit operative in charge of the investigation. Fogel with three others was supposed to constitute the "Wall street of the rum ring."

WELLINGTON, N. Z. —(AP)—Plans to ship New Zealand venison to San Francisco for distribution in the United States have been launched here owing to a surplus of deer in various parts of the country. The animals have become a menace to farm crops.

MAYENCE, Germany — (AP)—A French pilot, his aide and their mechanician were killed in a sham air battle Friday when their plane collided with another of the maneuvering squadron. The crew of the other plane was able to make a safe landing.

CAPETOWN, South Agrica—(AP)—Alan J. Cobham, British aviator, who completed a flight from London to this city on February 17, Friday began the return flight to the British capital.

BERLIN—(AP) — Breslau reports say an Anglo-American group of financiers is negotiating in Warsaw for the acquisition of the Chorzow electric works. Their plans are said to call for an enlargement of the works so as to supply Polish Upper Silesia, the Dembrova coal district and the Cracow industries with electric light and power.

LONDON—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Sir Francis Lloyd died Friday, aged 72. He retired from the army in 1920, since when he had been a commissioner in the Duke of York's royal military school.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Mrs. Paulette Picard Whiting Friday obtained leave to withdraw her separate maintenance suit against Bradford Whiting, prominent society and clubman and file an amended petition for divorce. Her counsel said that a bill charging habitual drunkenness would be filed. A property settlement had been made, they said.

ROME—(AP)—Prince Phillip of Hesse, recently married to Princess Mafalda of Italy, was injured late Friday when he fell from his horse during a fox hunt at Maglianella in the suburbs of Rome. He was rushed to the Villa Savera, where his condition was declared not to be causing anxiety.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Pay or go to jail will be the rule of an alimony bureau opened here to aid divorcees to collect $5,000,000 due them annually. The bureau in Chicago, the first large city to enter the business, will be affiliated with the Social Service bureau and will provide a complete service to force payment-dodging husbands to comply with court orders awarding alimony or to explain why they should not go to jail, Superior Judge Joseph Sabath announced Thursday.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for Countess Cathcart, announced today that he had telegraphed to Secretary of Labor Davis in Washington for his permission to have the countess surrendered in court next Tuesdya. This, he said, would enable her to appear in Federal court that day for the arguments on the habeas writ to require Immigration Commissioner Curran to explain his reasons for detaining her. The countess was released from Ellis Island on $500 bond last Saturday for a ten day leave.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The appellate division of the Supreme court Friday reversed a judgment dismissing the suit for divorce brought by Thomas H. Symington, wealthy manufacturer and sportsman, against Ida May Symington, and directed that a new trial be held.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.
While recoveries were staged in a number of important stocks at the beginning of today's session, weakness was pronounced in the bulk of industrial and specialty stock leaders and new losses in some of these stocks aggregated 5 points.

The Nickel Plate railroad stocks were firm on reports that the members of the I. C. C. were preparing their majority report approving the merger of the Erie, Pere Marquette and other roads comprising the proposed Greater Nickel Plate system.

Specialties and motor stocks continued under pressure.

The oils opened irregularly and values of the best-known stocks in this group were fractionally below Friday's close. Selling pressure increased in the second hour and ground was readily yielded by the high-priced stocks which led January's enthusiastic advance.

Bears extended their operations to the high-priced speculative leaders in the closing period. Foundation Co. tumbled 27 points to 129 as selling pressure became more pronounced; Cast Iron Pipe broke through its former low at 188; American Can lost 5 points.

Railroad and oil stocks were firm at the close.

Foundation Co. lost 4 points at 152 and General Electric declined 3 points to 346 at the opening of the market today. Industrial stocks were irregular; rails fairly steady. U. S. Steel up ⅛ at 125; American Smelting up ⅞ at 131⅞ and American Can up 1½ at 332; American Sugar up ½ at 77⅞, Consolidated Gas up ⅜ at 96½; Studebaker up ⅞ at 58⅞; Hudson up 1⅛ at 119⅛; Phillips Petroleum up ¼ at 45.

New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad gained 2 points at 163¼. New York Central up 1½ at 127½; Chesapeake & Ohio up 1½ at 114¼; Erie up ⅝ at 37.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Bradstreet's today said:

Trade conditions are somewhat irregular, but most signs are healthful ones. Wholesale trade is holding up very well, sales being well ahead of last year and retail lines, with spring goods being displayed, show some improvement. Industry is moving at about the same pace as last week, with steel production larger, soft coal mines less active, automobile factories operating close to capacity, and some improvements in building. The stock market, however, has been comparatively dull, with sales smaller than for some time past, and very considerable declines in some stocks, chiefly industrials. Most issues show a weaker tendency, although the movement is considered by some observers to be merely a technical readjustment of the spectacular advances of last fall, not involving any wholesale scaling down of values. Speculative selling coupled with the decrease in cotton exports, sent that commodity to the lowest point in several months.

POLAND CLAIMS SEAT IN LEAGUE

Premier Skrzynski's Attitude Is Criticised In Germany.

WARSAW, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Skrzynski, on the occasion of the first reading of the bill to ratify the Locarno pact, touched only briefly on Poland's claim for a permanent seat in the council of the league of nations. He said nothing to indicate that Poland was determined to insist on the seat, but referred to the covenant of the League of Nations as implying that Poland should have membership in the council when Germany became a member.

The only practical interpretations of Article 4 of the league covenant, he asserted, was that Poland should appear on the league's council with the same status and at the same time with Germany.

He denied that before signing the Locarno agreemnts he demanded certain conditions, for instance that Poland should have a permanent seat in the league's councils.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Polish premier's announcement of Poland's claim to a permanent seat in the League of Nations council was sharply criticized yesterday by the Berlin newspapers and political circles where the opinion is expressed that the matter must be settled at Geneva next month and cannot be allowed to rest until the league's September session.

The attitude of the German government, it is declared, will depend on the stand taken by the allied governments toward Poland's claim and it is still asserted on all sides that Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stressemann will undoubhtedly withdraw Germany's application for league membership if Poland's claim is admitted next month.

NEW YORK JURY HEARS CARROLL

Gotham Producer Is Questioned Concerning Alleged Gay Party.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, was less jovial today than he was Monday night. Friday he was called before a federal grand jury which is seeking to determine whether or not he violated the prohibition law. Monday night he was host to a party where it is charged that champagne was served by a nude chorus girl sitting in a bathtub of the liquid.

Appearing with a private guard, he went into the jury room and remained half an hour, appearing nervous and incommunicative at the end of the session.

Police Commissioner McLaughlin earlier had ordered an investigation by the police into the question of whether the statute against nudity had been violated at the dinner.

Carroll has denied the bathtub incident, as has Vera Countess of Cathcart, who was a guest of honor at the party.

United States Attorney Buckner refused to comment on Carroll's testimony before the grand jury. It is understood that Carroll is the only person called thus far in the investigation.

The probability is that the police will take no action unless a complainant comes forward with substantiated testimony.

Mexican States To Compete for U. S. Divorces

TUCSON Ariz., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Three states of Mexico have entered into competition for the golden harvest of "quick divorce" Americans, it was revealed Friday when the state of Morelos, in the interior of Chihuahua on the border, entered the list with divorce laws which they say are as convenient if not more so than the ne wdivorce statute of the state of Sonora.

Cuernavaca, capital of Morelos, attempts to offset the promises of the nearest of the border states to their prospective customers with the lure of the pleasing environment of a popular resort city to amuse the divorce seekers while they wait the ten days necessary to secure a Morelos separation.

In Juarez, the border city of Chihuahua, a group of enterprising lawyers has begun to draw up a revision for the state's divorce laws to do away with requirements of one year's residence in cases of contested divorces.

All three states have laws which do not require legal residence for foreigners who seek divorces by mutual consent of the parties involved.

been valid and binding. Moreover, it says, the terms of the policy were plain in specifying that if young Flaherty should die while in military service the company would not be liable for anything more than a computed amount based on the premium which had been paid.

The policy had been taken out in November, 1917, and had not run a full year when Flaherty died. At the time it was issued, he was in the real estate and insurance business. Afterward he enlisted for service as an army flier, and was sent to the Texas training camp. He came to Lincoln on furlough and while here became ill and died, a victim of the flu epidemic which swept the country at that time.

Governor Looking For Best Old-Time Fiddlers In State

A request for two old fiddlers of Nebraska to compete in an interstate contest at Jefferson City, Mo., April 2 with representatives of eight other states, has been received by Governor McMullen from Governor S. A. Baker of Missouri. The music will be broadcast from the state-owned WOS at Jefferson City.

He was invited by Governor Baker to come also, but Mr. McMullen will be unable to attend. He wants to hear from all the fiddlers in the state who are interested in the contest, however, so that Nebraska may be represented.

Two musicians from each of the following states have been asked by the Missouri executive: Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky.

"I can play a fiddle, but I am not going to enter the contest," said the governor when newspaper men asked him his experiences along that line. "I have an old fiddle that I have played at many barn dance in the old days."

He would like to go to Jefferson City and take part in one of the old square dances, Governor McMullen said.

City Briefs

Can't Make T. B. Test.—R. G. Batty, chemist of the state food and drug bureau, received an unusual request Saturday morning from William Mankey, a bank cashier at Dunning, to test a small vial of milk to determine whether a cow owned by George Welch is tuberrular. The test must be made upon the animal, Batty said, and a chemical analysis would be uncertain in any event.

Ehibit in Bartlett Case—A battered automobile tire which figured as evidence in the prosecution of Henry E. Bartlett for the murder of Chief of Police Asa Ransom at Minden was received by parcel post at the supreme court clerk's office Saturday, for the attention of the judges in considering Bartlett's appeal. The tire was said to have been on the car driven by Charles Sealing, Bartlett's associate, and served to identify the car by its imprint in the road.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, told a house appropriation subcommittee in testimony in the house Friday that the export trade of the country faces a serious crisis which urgently requires continuance of the encouraging policy followed since 1921. "The outstanding problem," he explained, "is the coming conflict for foreign markets attendant upon the economic recovery of European competitors."

HANSEN'S SUIT TO BE RETRIED

Supreme Court Sets Aside Judgment In Action For Alleged Libel.

That Hans Hansen has a cause of action against Perley M. Green for damages on account of alleged libelous and defamatory accusations contained in a number of letters written by the latter, and that the verdict of a Furnas county jury dismissing Hansen's suit was contrary to the evidence, are conclusions reached by the Supreme court commission after reviewing the case on appeal.

Accordingly, the judgment is set aside and the case remanded back for a new trial, with specific findings that the alleged statements made by Green and the epithets he applied to Hansen in his correspondence were malicious and constituted libel under the law. Defective instructions by the trial judge to the jury are cited as a further reason for reversal.

Hansen asked judgment for $50,000 because of a series of letters written by Green to W. S. Gunnell at Beaver City and J. A. Gardner at Orleans, in which the defendant was alleged to have made false, scandalous and defamatory charges against the plaintiff.

All four men were interested in the Beaver City Lumber Co., which owned and operated yards at several different places. Hansen was the general manager. The letters referred to matters of disagreement which had arisen among them and charged that Hansen, Gunnell and Gardner were in a conspiracy to "do up" Green as one of the partners in the joint enterprise. The letters complained of were written in 1921 and 1922.

EDITORS ATTACK GOODING'S BILL

canal paid for by all the people and beneficial to only a small portion of the people tends to build up the industries of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts at the expense of the middlewest and such deserve the condemnation of the middlewest and the press of Nebraska should take a leading part in the denunciation of such injustice and join in an intelligent and concerted demand for a readjustment of freight rates that will put middle western agriculture and industry on a parity with agriculture and industry on the two coasts.

Helps Coast Bsiness.

"The Gooding bill, now before congress, threatens a further attack upon the development of agriculture and industry in the middle west by prohibition of relief under the fourth section of the interstate commerce act, thereby preventing a lowering of long haul rates as now asked by transcontinental railroads and further fastening the hold coast industries have on business properly belonging to the middle west and now taken away by reason of unjust canal competition. The enactment of the Gooding bill into law would forever prohibit the interstate commerce commission from granting relief to sections thoroughly deserving of relief and leave the two coasts free to absorb the industries of the middle west by reason of water rates over which the government has no control although the people are taxed to maintain the waterway through which the cargo carrying vessels pass."

Members of the association today paid tribute to members who died since the last meeting.

Among those remembered were Will C. Israel, Havelock Post, editor, a past president; Mrs. Josephine Mickel, editor of the Seward Independent Democrat; Walter G. Rood North Loup Loyalist! I. W. Carpenter, Omaha friend of the association; and Earnest H. Porter, Keith County News, Ogallala.

Taking the platform after an address by O. S. Spillman, attorney general, last night to members of the association, Will M. Maupin, of Omaha, disputed Mr. Spillman's assertion that many newspapers' policies are "controlled by the counting room."

"The newspaper whose policy is controlled by its counting room is no more venal than the lawyer, a sworn officer of the court, who will for money defend a prisoner at the bar whom he knows to be guilty of the crimes charged in the indictment," Maupin said. "No newspaper in America boasts of its reputation for defeating justice as does a great lawyer whose only claim to fame is that he had enabled more than 150 murderers to escape the just penalty of their murderous action. No newspaper, daily or weekly would be guilty of business practices comparable to those of lawyers who for money defeat justice by resorting to petty technicalities that are an insult to intelligence and a disgrace to American jurisprudence."

Omaha Attorney to Run for Congress In Second District

Grenville P. North, Omaha attorney and world war veteran, 36 years of age, was placed in nomination Saturday morning for congress in the second district, as a democratic primary candidate, by the filing of a voters' petition from that city, containing 2,536 signatures, in the office of Secretary of State Pool.

Mr. North's written acceptance did not accompany the petition, but Mrs. Peter Jolly, a well known democratic woman leader of Omaha, who was in the delegation presenting it, said there is no doubt that he will accept and make the race. Harvey M. Johnson and Darrell C. Hood were with her and said they felt sure North would run.

The petitions were obtained through the activity of a committee including the persons named and Fred Wright and John McCloud. No other democratic aspirant has filed for congress in the second district. On the republican side, Congressman W. G. Sears and W. F. Gurley are both entered.

North is a graduate of the University of Iowa. He volunteered for srevice at Cherokee, Ia., when the United States entered the world war in 1917. After the war, he located at Omaha and has been practicing law there since.

State Senator C. H. Meacham of Dorchester has refiled for his seat in the republican primary for the 10th district.

CENSURE VOTE IS REFUSED IN UPPER HOUSE

ministration policies has always been a bone of contention among the democrats.

The so-called progressive group has favored it as a general principle, but the more conservative democrats, like Senator Underwood of Alabama, Bruce of Maryland, and Senator Glass of Virginia, have opposed it strenuously.

Dozen Demos Missing.

A dozen democrats were missing from the senate chamber on the Mellon aluminum vote, while Bruce of Maryland, and Blease of South Carolina, voted with the administration forces. Had even these two votes ben cast on the other side, the senate would have gone on record as voting severe censure on the department of justice and it would have foreshadowed the ordering of special counsel to institute legal proceedings against the so-called "trust" entirely independent of Attorney General Sargent.

What effect the impending collapse of the coalition will have upon the remainder of the session was said to be problematical. One of the results may be the confirmation of Thomas Woodlock of New York, to the interstate commerce commission by a close vote. The Italian debt settlement probably will be ratified, too, whereas it appeared certain of defeat two weeks ago.

Even the democratic rupture, however, will not save Wallace F. McCamant, nominated to a federal judgeship by President Coolidge, for McCamant is opposed on personal as well as political grounds.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. KIRKWOOD

The Star and the Times, a part of the Nelson estate, will be sold by the trustees within two years after the death of Mrs. Kirkwood under provisions of the will left by Mr. Nelson. Proceeds of the sale, as well as the income of the entire estate, will go to the city for an art gallery. The will provided that this disposition of the estate was to be made after the death of Mrs. Nelson and her daughter, Mrs. Kirkwood.

The trustees are to be appointed, in accordance with the will, by a board consisting of the presidents and their successors of the state universities of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. The estate, in addition to the two newspapers, includes a large amount of very valuable business and residence property.

In directing the purchase of works of art, Mr. Nelson specifically stated in his will that the trustees should select such works or reproduction of the works of artists who had been dead at least thirty years at the time of purchase.

The Magician's Sleeve

Lots of sleight-of-hand performers would not be able to do much if they were slight of sleeve. It's only because a dexterous twist of the wrist brings what they want from a tricky sleeve that they are able to produce some of their startling effects.

But you are not going to maintain that you have all the things you need concealed up your sleeve: You are frank to acknowledge that you aren't anything up your sleeve — except your arm.

You aren't going to try to fool anybody — yourself least of all.

That is why you are going to the A-B-C Classified Section of the Star for the things you need.

There isn't anything magical about this section—but it works wonders just the same. Its opportunities are legion; its profits are simply prodigious.

It will fill all of your ordinary needs!

Flowers Wrests Mitten Title From Harry Greb

Crown Rests On Dome of Dusky Boxer

"Tiger" Flowers, Atlanta Deacon, Lifts Middle Title From Greb In 15-Round Encounter In New York.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(I. N. S.) —Well, punch me for a ticket if the man didn't bit the dog after all.

This great human interest story, for which the newspaper profession has waited with bated typewriters these many years, "broke" at Madisan Square Garden last night. Almost from the beginning of time dogs have been biting men, to the accompaniment of three agate lines on an inside page. Almost as long as memory runneth not to the contrary, Harry Greb has been beating opponents and the lethargy has been frightful.

DARK MAN DID HIS STUFF.

But there must be an end to everything and last night Harry Greb finished second to Tiger Flowers, the colored gentleman from Atlanta. And while the Tiger was about it, he made the job a thorough one. The decision carried with it the world's middleweight title.

Some of the merry villagers seemed to think Greb was shortchanged, but that idea was all to the falsetto. Flowers got the decision and he earned it. He fought a courageous, if not a sensational fight, and outscored Greb in the majority of exchanges.

It was more of an opera bouffe than a prize fight, with clowning and rough stuff at a premium. Nothing was barred except hitting with flat-irons. Greb was the worst offender and also the worst fighter. He couldn't lick the flap of an envelope last night.

HARRY DEAD ON HIS FEET.

When a champion loses, it is customary to explain the phenomenon with a glib statement to the general effect that he has seen better days. It went in his case, anyhow.

Greb was dead on his feet to start the fight, coming out for the first round like a man who has just been courteously tapped behind the ear with an anvil. Flowers simply murdered him without a come-back, and if the colored man had had a real punch we would have been treated to the spectacle of a famous champion being knocked out in the first round.

Hardened ring-siders stared in amazement as Greb, with not even a suggestion of his speed and fighting spirit, took a terrible shellacking through the first three rounds. Flowers couldn't miss with his left.

Starting with the fourth, it seemed that Greb had fought himself out of whatever was the matter with him and he carried what fighting there was to Flowers with something of his old spirit. He took the fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth rounds clearly enough, but somehow the thing lacked conviction. He couldn't muster any part of his old dash.

Flowers, meantime, had carried the fifth and ninth and never was far behind the pace at any time. Greb came back to take the tenth and eleventh rounds, but this was his last gesture.

BARELY LASTED TO WIRE.

Weary almost beyond endurance, Greb was buffeted all over the ring through the last three rounds and barely lasted to the wire under his own power.

This was not due to the punching he got. There wasn't a dozen good punches landed throughout the fifteen rounds and Greb merely took his share of them. This fight was lost outside the ring.

Greb's performance was either that of a passe veteran or a good fighter gone wrong. He seemed to be in excellent condition at the weighing in ceremonies in the afternoon. The answer? It's above and beyond me.

LITTLE OR NO BETTING.

There was no "killing" made on the decision. Odds on Greb as great as 5 to 1 were offered at the Garden before the fight and the writer knows of only one taker.

It is with no wish to take anything away from Flowers that the writer declares that he didn't beat the real Greb. As a matter of fact, I don't know that it makes much difference. There seems to be plenty of credit involved in the lifting of the middleweight title for the first time by a negro and one, at that, with only one eye.

FRANCE MENACES YANK SUPREMACY

Borotra and La Coste Sure To Be Formidable Pair In Davis Cup Play.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—France has entered for the Davis cup tennis play this summer with the prospect that the tri-color and stars and stripes will be arrayed against each other once more.

With the victories scored by Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra over two of the best players in the U. S.—William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards—in recent indoor matches, the entrance of France has an added significance. Borotra and Lacoste will be membe s of the French team and Tilden and Richards of the American.

Yanks Win Doubles Match.

The United States gained a point in the international matches at the Seventh regiment armory yesterday when Tilden and Richards conquered Lacoste and Jacques Brugnon, 4-6, 6-2, 8-10, 6-1, 7-5, giving America two victories in the team competion to one for France.

Richards meets Lacoste, Tilden encounters Borotra, three out of five sets to decide.

A clash between Tilden and the United States Lawn Tennis association over participation of several players in exhibition matches at Madison Square Garden Sunday has been averted. The exhibition has been cancelled.

New Rule On "Resin" Ball Means Little

BY AL DEMAREE.

Ball players in general and pitchers in particular get a good laugh over the moguls of the game legalizing the use of resin again.

They never knew it was illegal to use it. Pitchers always have and always will use it, rules or no rules. It simply gives them a better grip on the ball and helps their control when their hands are sweating I played professional ball fo rseventeen years and never saw a freak jump on a resined ball.

No umpire can ever detect all the ways of applying resin. Umpires will sometimes rush out to a pitcher and examine his glove, smell it, apply their tongue to it, and finally make him use another glove. The result is that another glove with even more resin and licorice on it is thrown out to him from the bench. It s just one of those silly, ridiculous rules that mean nothing and can never be enforced.

AGGIES OF IOWA BID FOR SCHULTE

Ames School Asks Nebraska Consent to Negotiate With Coach.

AMES, Ia., Feb. 27.—If satisfactory salary terms can be agreed upon and University of Nebraska athletic authorities are willing, Henry F. ("Indian") Schulte, head coach of track at the Cornhusker institution the past six years, may be heading for Ames next fall to take charge of track sports at Iowa State college.

Premature publicity in Des Moines this morning flushed the game so far as Iowa State college is concerned. Director of Athletics Metcalf said today. According to the director, the Ames school has been exchanging letters with Schulte, but nothing definite has been decided as to the salary question, nor is it in any way assured that Schulte will transfer the scene of his activities.

Letters Exchanged.

"We hoped to conduct negotiations with Schulte without publicity," Director Metcalf said today, "but a Des Moines newspaper violated our confidence and broke loose today with a premature announcement. Coach Schulte and I have exchanged letters. I have nothing further from him than a statement that he would be willing to consider an offer.

"We would like to have him at Iowa State, but I rather fear that we can't afford to pay him the salary that he would expect or the salary that he is worth.

"In today's mail I sent a letter to Lincoln asking the Nebraska authorities to give consent to a formal offer by Iowa State to Schulte. If Nebraska objects, Iowa State will drop the matter and look elsewhere for a new track coach."

Nebraska Has No Information.

University of Nebraska authorities declared today that they had no direct information relative to negotiations by Iowa State college with the Cornhuskers' track coach. Schulte is at Urbana, Ill., today with a squad of track athletes and was not here to speak for himself.

The Nebraska authorities declined to outline their position in advance of the receipt of Director Metcalf's letter.

NEW CHAMPION OFTEN ON FLOOR

Tiger Flowers Eight Times Prostrate For Count Of Ten Seconds.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. — (AP) — Theodore ("Tiger") Flowers, a negro from Atlanta, Ga., 30 years old and veteran of eight years of ring battles, today is middleweight champion of the world.

The crown is his by virtue of a 15-round victory on points over Harry Greb of Pittsburgh at Madisan Square Garden last night. The margin was not large, yet enough to convince the judges and referee.

Greb was not what he had been in previous defenses of his title, for after four rounds he forsook his "windmill" attack and poised his right hand for a damaging blow.

Right Failed to Land.

This blow never landed and Flowers, lashing out continually, gained the verdict for aggressiveness and a willingness to fight throughout. Many critics argued that the decision should have been a draw, but the state athletic commission has ruled that fights shall be decided by the number of rounds won.

Flowers, in the opinion of critics, had at least six of the rounds, while Greb could muster no more than five and four were even.

Offers Return Fight.

Red Mason, manager of the former champion, said after the contest that if Flowers had won, then he was the victor by the narrowest of margins.

Flowers' manager, Walk Miller, said that his boxer would have shown to better advantage had not Greb locked arms about his opponent from the ninth round to the end.

Harry Miller said to Greb: "Tiger will fight any middleweight in the world in three months. You can take him if you want him. We bar nobody."

Tiger Often Knocked Out.

Flowers probably has suffered more knockouts than any other champion the world has known. He went into the test with Greb anything but favored because last winter Jack Delaney, the light-heavyweight from Bridgeport, Conn., knocked him out twice.

On eight occasions Flowers has heard ten counted over him—four times in 1922, when Kid Norfolk, Sam Langford, Lee Anderson and Jamaica Kid accomplished the feat; once in 1921 when Panama Joe Gans was his adversary, and again in 1923 when Kid Norfolk required a single round to win.

Lost Four Times in '25.

Last year, besides the Delaney reverses, he lost to Lou Bogash on a foul at Boston and was beaten by Mike McTigue in New York, although few at the ringside agreed with the verdict.

Flowers is married and has one daughter. He formerly entered the ring at about 170, but by constant dieting has brought himself down to the middleweight limit.

Greb won the title from Johnny Wilson of Boston three years ago.

Rokeby Cagesters Defeat Bennet Hi

ROKEBY, Neb., Feb. 27.—Rokeby high won a doubleheader basketball program from Bennet here last night. The Rokeby boys won by a 15-9 score and the Rokeby girls won by a 28-26 margin.

Panama defeated Rokeby here Tuesday, 14 to 10. The Rokeby girls defeated the Hallam girls in the curtain-raiser, 21-15.

Rokeby will play at Denton Tuesday and at Hallam Friday.

Genoa Quint Is Winner.

GENOA, Neb., Feb. 27.—Genoa high defeated Cedar Rapids in basketball here last night by a 23 to 12 margin.

Lincoln Hi Repeated By Defeat of Central in '15

Capital City Annexed Its Second State Basketball Championship, Winning Final Tournament Game From Omaha, 17 to 10; Hebron Won Class B Title In Turning Back Minden High.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

The plan of classifying teams in the annual fight for the Nebraska cage title was introduced in 1915, when the committee in charge of the tourney conceived the idea of splitting the entries into two divisions—class A and class B.

Lincoln walked off with class A honors, repeating its triumph of the preceding year, while Hebron carried off the cup in class B. First honors in the consolation tournament went to Nebraska City.

Seventy Teams Competed.

Seventy teams were enrolled in the 1915 tournament, twenty-five being awarded places in the top division. Those in class A during the 1915 tourney were Lincoln, Oakdale, Broken Bow, Crete, Plainview, Geneva, Hardy, Stanton, Kearney, Beatrice, Pierce, Plattsmouth, South Omaha, Omaha Central, Columbus, Nebraska City, Hastings, Auburn, Dodge, University Place, Merna, Central City, Scottsbluff, York and Brady.

The city auditorium floor was used for the first time in 1915, the armory and chapel being the two additional courts.

During the 1915 tournament a rule was agreed upon that in case of a tie score at the end of the second half, the two teams must continue until at the end of a five-minute period one team was two points ahead.

Lincoln Mixed With Central.

Semi-finalists in class A were Lincoln, Hastings, Omaha Central and Omaha South.

Lincoln and Central in the finals for the second time in two years. Lincoln led at half-time, 10 to 7, and was returned the victor in a rough game, 17 to 10. On its road to a title Lincoln defeated Oakdale, Wilber, University Place, Hastings and Central. Summary of final game:

Lincoln—	Po.	—Central
Morris(c.)	f	Lutes
Schmidt	f	Flothow
Albrecht	c	Paynter
M. Smith	g	Larmon(c)
Hager	g	Engstrom

Field goals—Morris 2, Schmidt 1, Albrecht 1, Hager 1, Flothow 2, Paynter 1. Free throws—Morris 4, Flothow 4. Referee—Rutherford. Umpire—Corey.

Hebron Delegation.

Two hundred Hebronites journeyed to Lincoln to inspect Hebron's 18-7 victory over Minden in the finals for the class B cup. Hebron led 3-2 at half-time. Nebraska City was the consolation tourney by defeating Oakdale in the final game, 12-6.

In the 1915 program the class A final was the curtain-raiser and only a handful of people remained for the consolidation windup.

SUZIE'S NERVES BADLY SHOCKED

French Girl's Ill Health Attributed to Recent Clash With Helen.

BY FREDERICK K. ABBOTT.

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Mlle Lenglen wants the whole wide world to understand very completely that it is the doctors who are responsible for her decision not to meet Helen Wills again on the Riviera.

Suzanne so informed the writer today with great emphasis. "The doctors are responsible for my not playing singles before June- write it down; tell that to the world" said Mlle. Suzanne. "They say if I play in the singles before June it is 'at my own risk' and 'under the protest' of my physicians.

"What can I do but abide by their decision?

"I am playing in the doubles at Mentone next week with M. Cochet. But I am afraid that will be the end of my play until St Cloud in June.

Gives Credit to Helen.

"Of course, there is always the chance that my health may improve. If I am a 100 per cent better after Mentone, I might re-consider. But, aside from the question of my health, there is the question of my being in condition.

"Helen Wills is the best player I have ever met and it would be folly for me to meet a strong player again unless I was in the pink of condition."

Shock to Suzie's Courage.

That seems to be just that. Suzanne is undoubtedly in ill-health and the battle she was given by Helen Wills in their meeting a fortnight ago has given her tennis temperament a sever shock.

Suzanne has a sort of "tennis shock," something akin to "shell shock." Her supreme confidence, which has been one of her great strengths, has been shaken. The psychological experts among the tennis fans have diagnosed her case from the grandstands and they opine that if she were to meet Helen Wills tomorrow she would be beaten before she took her courts.

Suzanne knows of this attack of "tennis shock" and she intends to regain her equilibrium before she undergoes a barrage from the Californian's racquet again.

Not Until Wimbledon.

There are many who believe that Suzanne will not meet Miss Wills again before Wimbledon. The English grass courts are just to Suzanne's liking. They are generally fairly heavy with the effects of rain. She understands them perfectly. Miss Wills in her last appearance in England was unable to get going on the Wimbledon courts. Suzanne would have the advantage if they met there.

Suzanne's announcement has caused disappointment, but it has not driven the tennis fans from the Riviera. Helen Wills still is here and she has become almost as great an attraction as Suzanne ever.

Loafs Through Doubles.

Mlle. Lenglen made her re-appearance on the courts today and did not appear to be greatly out of form. With Mlle. Vlasto, she played in the Beaumont cup doubles and defeated Miss Radcliffe and Miss Platt, 6-3, 6-0. Suzanne took the game easily, however, and permitted Mlle. Vlasto to do the greater part of the work. In the first set, Miss Radcliffe and Miss Platt won the first, third and fourth games. Thereafter, Mlle. Vlasto dominated the game and continually ran up points with smashing drives. Suzanne was apparently willing to permit her to take all the honors.

Last Night's Fights.

At New York—Tiger Flowers Atlanta, got the decision over Harry Greb, Pittsburgh, for world's middleweight championship, 15 rounds; K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York, knocked out Mickey Rockson, California, fourth round; Tommy Travers, New Haven, and Eddie McLaughlin, New York, fought a draw, four rounds.

At Detroit—Johnny Mellow, Detroit, and Joey Silvers, New York, drew in 10 rounds; Harry Kahn, Milwaukee, was awarded the decision over Sid Barbarian, Detroit; Mickey Goldberg, Milwaukee, knocked out Don Burchard, Detroit.

At East Chicago—Tod Morgan, Junior lightweight champion, won the decision from Don Davis in 10 rounds; Shuffle Callahan knocked out Johnny Mendelsohn, Milwaukee, in three rounds.

At Tampa, Fla.—Jack Renault Canadian heavyweight champion, knocked out Jack League, El Paso, Tex., four rounds.

At Hollywood, Cal.—Spug Myers, Pocatello, Idaho, scored a close decision over Frankie Schaeffer, Chicago lightweight, 10 rounds.

Hoff All Set For Record Smashing

BALTIMORE, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Charley Hoff, Norwegian vaulting marvel, will take his seventh shot at the world's indoor pole vault mark tonight in the feature event of the annual Johns Hopkins Fifth regiment indoor games at the latter's armory. In six record breaking leaps since his arrival in this country, Hoff has lifted the mark from 13 feet ½ inch to 13 feet 4½ inches. Hoff announced on his arrival here that he plans to clear 13 feet 7 inches tonight.

SOONER FIVE OUT OF CAGE RUNNING

Oklahoma's Defeat Makes K. U. and Kansas Ags Sole Contenders.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The University of Kansas and the Kansas Aggies remain to fight it out for the basketball championship of the Missouri Valley conference. There is a chance for either to win or to tie for the title.

Kansas meets Nebraska tonight at Lawrence and Monday, in its last game, will face the Aggies, also at Lawrence. If Kansas wins both games it will mean four straight conference basketball championships for the Jayhawkers.

Oklahoma was eliminated from the race last night when the Oklahoma Aggies defeated the Sooners, 29 to 26, at Stillwater. It was Oklahoma's last game of the season. Drake defeated Washington, 40 to 22 at Des Moines.

Should Kansas lose to Nebraska tonight the Aggies could win the Valley laurels by taking their remaining games, including the one with Kansas. A tie for the title would result from Kansas defeating Nebraska and the Aggies winning their three remaining contests.

Come Home with the Bacon.

Basketball Secrets.

FY SOL METZGER.

WHEN PIVOTING.

Players add to their value when they can pivot with the ball That is, when an opponent approaches from in front, they can execute a reverse pivot so their back will be toward this opponent. Then they are free to pass. To make this pivot, the player should always swing around on the rear foot, giving himself the necessary momentum by pushing with the forward foot, as in the illustration on the left. Don't try to pivot on the forward foot, as in the illustration on the right. It's an awkward move and nine out of ten men can not make it without losing their balance and falling.

BOBCATS CLINCH ANOTHER TITLE

Peru Decisive Winner In Rough Cage Game On Bethany Court.

PERU-WESLEYAN TONIGHT.

Peru Normal and Nebraska Wesleyan will meet tonight on the University Place court. It will be the final game of the conference season for the Bobcats. The game is scheduled for 8 p. m., being preceded by a curtain-raiser between the Wesleyan frosh and Trinity M. E. W. H. Browne of Lincoln will referee.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

Spring football practice has opened a trifle early in the Nebraska college conference. Peru Normal and Cotner college plunged into their first workout on the Bethany maple court Friday and it is much as a gymnasium-full of spectators was on hand to witness a basketball game, the collegiate athletes of the two institutions wore the abreviated togs befitting the cage sport.

Peru Normal won the tilt, 28 to 13, thereby clinching its claim to another state basketball title and running its string of consecutive victories in Nebraska college competition to fifty-four.

Weird Combination.

The game was a weird combination of basketball, football, wrestling and jiu-jitsu. Peru excelled by a decisive margin in all the various branches of the contest. The Bobcats flashed a neat brand of basketball to gain an eight-point lead and met the Bulldogs toe to toe and shoulder to shoulder the remainder of the game, scoring a basket or two whenever occasion demanded, just to keep in mind that it was basketball season and the game was being played indoors.

Rough and Tumble.

The game was rough from the start. The work of the Peruvians in scoring four baskets before the play was more than five minutes old seemed to disorganize the Cotner five and the game on the small court developed into a rough and tumble contest.

The best basketball of the evening was displayed by Center Krejci and Forward Selk of the Peru team. Krejci handled himself in good shape, playing the floor in an excellent fashion and scoring five times from the floor and once from the foul line.

Selk Scoring Threat.

The diminutive Selk was always a scoring threat. He continually eluded the Cotner defense, scoring four baskets and being a constant worry to the Bulldog guards. Kennedy and Stearns looked the best for Cotner, it being a drab evening for all the pastimers in Cotner togs.

One of the largest crowds in the history of Cotner athletics witnessed the game. Standing room was at a premium an hour before game-time, the crowd swarming the stage, perching on rafters or clinging to barred windows to get fleeting glances at the contending athletes. A large delegation from Peru helped swell the throng, the Normal supporters bringing along a band to lend color to the occasion.

Bobcats Out in Front.

The game itself was anything but interesting. The offensive combination of Buettgenbach-Selk-Krejci rang up four baskets before the athletes had worked up a sweat. Guard Stearns sank a basket from mid-court for Cotner's second tally and the Bobcats then scored as they pleased, while Buising and Wasley, Peru guards, smothered the Cotner offense.

The count was 19-3 with Peru in the front before the Bulldogs again located the hoop. The remainder of the half was fought on even terms, Peru holding a 22-11 advantage when the pistol barked the end of the period.

Cotner Tumbles in Race.

Practically all the basketball was played the first half. During the second period Cotner failed to connect for a field goal, while baskets by Selk and Krejci represented the only tallying done by Peru in this department.

The defeat dropped Cotner to fourth position in the collegiate race and left Hastings college and Omaha university in the scramble for runner-up position. The score:

HAGEN "IN PINK" FOR JONES MATCH

"Pro" Veteran In Readiness To Clash With King Of Amateurs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27. —(AP)—Walter Hagen left here for Whitfield, club, Sarasota, where he will play a practice round today in preparation for the start of his 72-hole match with Bobby Jones, national amateur champion.

On his return to St. Petersburg, the national professional champion was shown a telegram from a Philadelphia newspaper asking for a 500-word story on how he felt before the big match. His reply was:

"I'm O. K."

Bobby Jones also declared himself in fine shape and ready for the play.

The Whitfield course was in perfect condition. Par for the 6,588-yard course is 71.

Mehlhorn Tied for Lead.

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Golfers taking part in the Florida open championship moved to the Temple Terrace club course today for the final 36 holes of the 72-hole medal play.

At the conclusion of the tournament $5,000 will be distributed to the winner.

HASTINGS QUINT BOWS TO LINCOLN

Thomas Team On Losing End Of 26-19 Score With Red and Black.

PLAY HAVELOCK TONIGHT.

Hastings high will meet Havelock on the suburban court tonight. The game is called for 8 p. m., the contest being preceded by a curtain raiser.

The Lincoln high cagesters performed up to expectations Friday night and neatly trimmed the Hastings quintet, 26 to 19, on the Whittier floor. The contest was listless until the second half, when Wilson, Hastings forward and captain for the game, began shooting goals from a angles, annexing 9 points in the last two quarters. The Lincoln Sporting Goods five beat the Lincoln reserves, 23 to 10, in a curtain-raiser.

Captain Witte of Lincoln was the star of the evening, his contribution being seven field goals and two free throws in as many attempts, for a 16-point total. Buechner played a dependable game at the guard position for the locals and scored a field goal in the course of the contest.

Subs Perform Creditably.

Kimball and Suter, additions from the reserve squad, saw considerable action during the evening and showed that they are coming players who will add greatly to Lincoln's chances in the state tournament.

Wilson was all over the floor for the Adams county team. Besides starring on the offense with a total of 11 counters, he broke up several easy shots for Lincoln. Sliger was a good guard and twice went down the floor for field goals.
